

ATTACKS U. S. MEXICO POLICY

Open Season on Americans Declared For Bandits, Charges Rep. Gould.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—In a scathing Saturday afternoon resolution directing the state department to take immediate steps to have the Mexican government "declare the Americans who paid $150,000 ransom to bandits for release of Wm. O. Jenkins, American consul general at Puebla, Mex., representative of the state department, "in open and cynical repudiation of sacred government obligations to protect the lives, liberty and property of its citizens, has declared an open season on Americans and its official representatives for bandits and robbers in Mexico."

Resolution Referred.
Another resolution by Senator Kin, Democrat, Utah, would ask the state department to report whether the Mexican government has been requested to reimburse Mr. Jenkins for the amount of the ransom. Both resolutions were referred to the committee.

Representative Gould called attention to the exchange of notes this year in which the Mexican government was warned that a radical change of policy toward Mexico might follow should Americans in Mexico continue to be unsafe. In reply, he said, the Mexican government had suggested that Americans concentrate in the southern centers of Mexico where protection could be afforded them.

Pueblo Second Largest City.
Pueblo, representative Gould said, was the second largest city in Mexico, yet in the four months past nearly 500 of the residents of the Mexican government which have evicted there more than 24 persons and disorders attributed by Mexico City newspapers either to rebels or to bandits in the state of Puebla or the state of Mexico. "And in the face of such a record," he continued, "the face of its record, the Mexican government, and in the face of all national and international law, the Mexican government has the胆量 to suggest that Americans concentrate in the southern centers of Mexico where protection could be afforded them."

Wilson's Kin Asks Mexico Pay Indemnity

Widow of E. F. Welles Is Claimant; Mexico to Pay No More Ransoms.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—Claims for indemnity against Mexico for the murder by bandits of Edward F. Welles, more than four years ago, was filed Monday with the state department by his widow, who is said to be a distant relative of president Wilson.

Welles, a Harvard graduate, well known in Mexico, was lined up with others and shot by bandits along the line of the Veracruz-Mexico City railway, after a train had been derailed by bandits.

Repeated petitions to the Carranza government, it was said, were met with promises to pay if the widow refrain from pressing her claim through the American state department.

Mexico will pay no ransom for foreigners kidnapped by Mexican bandits. This position of the Carranza government was announced in a note from Hilaria Modina, subsecretary of state for foreign affairs, to the American consul at Mexico City, in reply to the recent demand of the state department that Mexico omit no effort to effect the release of William O. Jenkins, consul at Puebla, Mex., who was captured by bandits in the state of Puebla. However, when terms and conditions are made especially attractive the merchants sometimes buy from San Francisco and Los Angeles.

SONORA MERCHANTS BUYING GOODS FROM EL PASO FIRMS

Sonora merchants are buying freely from dealers in El Paso and traveling men for local firms are working that state thoroughly for local concerns and those of Arizona, according to information received by American consul at Mexico City, in reply to the recent demand of the state department that Mexico omit no effort to effect the release of William O. Jenkins, consul at Puebla, Mex., who was captured by bandits in the state of Puebla. However, when terms and conditions are made especially attractive the merchants sometimes buy from San Francisco and Los Angeles.

A monthly steamer service from Guaymas has been established which operates on a freight rate from $15 to $18 per long ton, an shipment into western Mexican ports. Ranch houses are selling direct to the Sonora merchants certain products, such as photographic supplies, stationery, and men's clothing and furnishings. Chicago mail order houses also do a larger amount of business.

GEN. MIGUEL HERNANDEZ SURRENDERS TO FEDERALS

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 11.—Gen. Miguel Hernandez and 200 members of his force have surrendered to Mexican federal troops at Indaparaguat, Michoacan, Mex. It was announced here by General Gonzalez de la Mar. Gen. Hernandez, who has been operating independently in the Carranza government, is said to have been paroled upon his promise of loyalty to the Carranza government. SONORA TO HAVE A NEW BREWERY

Governor Plans Industrial Development of the State.

Hermosillo, Sonora, Mex., Nov. 11.—One of the great St. Louis breweries is reported to be behind plans made for establishment here of a second brewery, the product of the Carveria de Sonora not being considered large enough to supply the west coast, since the United States is to be cut off as a source of beer supply. A concession has been secured and at least $100,000 is to be spent in early installation of machinery brought in from the United States.

The new state government is continuing the policy of industrial expansion inaugurated by former Governor Calles. Machinery costing $50,000 has been ordered in New York to enlarge the shoe factory of the Cruz Calles school of this city, an institution started by Calles to provide a home and manual training for the orphans created by the long continued warfare that has been known in this state. The shoes produced are considered about as good as those imported and are much cheaper.

U. S. Orders Received.
Orders on hand include $4,000 pairs from the Southern Pacific company of Mexico, 12,000 pairs from the Consolidated Copper company and 11,000 pairs from the Morteuma Copper company, of Nacozari. The factory now is handling leather from burro hides, found available for hand bags and similar articles that have a ready sale. Harems also is made from this leather, for which there has been slaughter within the year of at least 500 animals in northern Sonora.

Fall Committee Will Soon Visit Border Districts

Committee Will Stay Here a Few Days, Then to Go to California.

The United States senate subcommittee investigating Mexican affairs will pass through El Paso November 20 on its way to Los Angeles, where it will hold the first of its border hearings, according to Judge Dan M. Jackson, secretary of the committee. The committee probably will stay here two or three days on its way to the coast. During those three days a place for the hearing here will be chosen.

In Los Angeles the committee will hear the evidence which 15 or more witnesses from the west coast of Mexico have to offer. These witnesses have been waiting in Los Angeles about three weeks. It was learned Monday and the committee desires to hear them as soon as possible so they can return to Mexico.

On the way back from California the committee expects to stop two or three places along the border in Arizona and New Mexico and finally complete the investigation here.

It has been learned here that the attorney general of the United States will designate Gus T. Jones, special agent in charge of the department of justice here, as chief investigator for the Fall committee. Mr. Jones has worked along the border for the government for years, all the way from Brownsville to San Diego. One of his duties will be to prepare a "Who's Who" of border characters. Several newspaper correspondents will accompany the committee on its trip.

VILLA GOES TO OJINAGA DISTRICT FOR SUPPLIES

Francisco Villa, with 40 men, recently was moving toward Ojinaga, Chihuahua, on the international border, to obtain new elements of war while the remaining men of his command hid in the mountains of southern Chihuahua, according to Gen. Francisco Gonzalez in an interview printed in Mexico City newspapers.

Gen. Gonzalez arrived in Mexico City last week en route to Tamaulipas, of which state he has been appointed governor. Until his appointment he was commander of the Carranza garrison in Juarez.

Villa, according to Gen. Gonzalez, was last reported passing south of Salsipueda, a side of Lower California, near Magdalena bay. He also said the Gilaños district was pacified and industries reopening. In southern Chihuahua, according to Gen. Gonzalez, mining activities have been renewed through successful campaigns of federal soldiers.

3 BANDIT GROUPS DRIVEN INTO HILLS BY CAVALRY

Three bandit groups, commanded by Julio Avila, Lorenzo Valdes and Emilio Gutierrez, were dispersed by federal soldiers under Governor Gonzalez, Castro and Pedro Pavon, recently, as they were preparing to attack Torreon, according to press reports reaching El Paso.

According to the reports the three bandit leaders had united and were preparing to launch their attack when the federal troops learned their plans. Before the bandits could move on the city the federal troops arrived and dispersed them. The bandits did not fire.

GEN. M. M. DISQUEZ MOVES TO MEET VILLA FORCES

A San Antonio, Tex., dispatch Saturday night reported that Gen. M. M. Disquez, federal commander of the northern army, had been dispatched with a strong column to meet Villa in an attempt to halt the latter's reported advance on Chihuahua, that other federal forces from Jimenez and Camargo had been sent to reinforce Disquez. An earlier San Antonio dispatch asserted Villa had appeared at San Diego, near Rio Concho, with 1000 men and was moving on Chihuahua.

Victory In a Joint Savings Account

In opening a savings account it is often advisable and convenient to arrange for two persons to draw upon it. This can easily be done when so desired.

A man and his wife, for example, may have a joint account, on which each may make withdrawals as well as deposits. In case of death of either party the joint account saves the necessity of court proceedings before the account can be drawn.

We shall be glad to tell you more about the joint savings account plan in detail upon request.

GERMANS PREPARE TO GET COMMERCE FROM MEXICO

According to an article under a Mexico City date line and published in a recent issue of "Orientacion," a newspaper published in Sonora, Mexico, there had arrived in the national capital of that country from Germany the largest commercial delegation that had ever visited Mexico. The article said that this delegation would travel over Mexico and open agencies all over the country for the sale of German manufactures, and would guarantee to undersell American goods.

YAGU INDIANS THREATEN ASSASSINATION CAMPAIGN

Nogales, Ariz., Nov. 11.—Yagu Indians recently issued the Gotaes mine, between San Javier and Tonicht, Son. according to advice received here. The redskins had previously cut the telephone wire to Torreon and San Javier, where Mexican federal troops were quartered. The redskins left a note addressed in American warning that next month the Yagu would start a "campaign of assassination," and blaming the Carranza government for provoking such a campaign.
